

The Lord has been very good to me lately, allowing me to be in a Christian school almost every week. The reason for preaching in Christian school chapels is to place missions in front of young people. The devil is finishing out our best young people, and I pray God will allow me to be a voice for Him to plea with young people to give their lives fully and wholeheartedly to serve God.

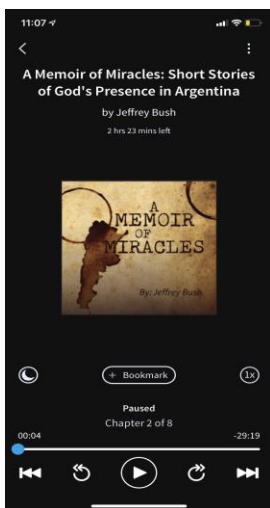

On Resurrection Sunday, churches all over took up love offerings for the future training facilities of missionaries. We are so very thankful for all those who have helped, as well as those who are still planning to do so. God has already given us 69 acres that have been paid for where we will be building dormitories and training facilities for this generation of missionary troops going out to spread the Gospel.

Recently we had a couple of days with Dr. Don Sisk. He has been integrally involved in world evangelization for over fifty years. What a privilege it was to hear him teach two days of classes to our missionaries and preach at our church.

Thankfully we have seen missionary families leave for the mission field (Turkey, Burkina Faso, Peru, England), as well as accept new missionaries (Mozambique). Noah and Tristan Wilkerson completed the required internship of training after spending 3 months in South Africa with our missionary, Mark Coffey. Noah is a sharp young man with a zeal for our Savior. I'm excited to see what God is going to do with this sweet couple!

After a long process, five of my books are now available as audiobook on multiple platforms!! Memoir of Miracles is a compilation of short stories of God's miraculous and powerful hand in our lives while we served as missionaries in Argentina.

We had a marvelous two weeks of orientation. The first week was with field directors as we discussed how to best love, lead, encourage, and help the missionaries we serve. The second week was orientation with all the missionaries currently stateside. It was a great time of fellowship, growing, instruction, and fun. I am very grateful to get to serve along some of the greatest missionaries of our day.
